SIXTH GRADE

CLASS HISTORY

By Suzanne Harlan

Since that fatal day in September of 1941 when we were first exposed to school, twelve years have come and gone. Out of that first grade class of bratty little kids only eight are still with us: Butch Smith, Billie Howe, Scotty Allan, Janet Watkins, Gerald Belvo, Martha Bailey, Sue Brown and Roy Turton.

Early in our first year, the fact was well established that we would be a very chummy class. In fact, we went so far as to engage in a daily routine of kissing and hugging each other just to show our affection.

When we launched into our second year our sunny atmosphere was dampened by no other than Nina Barr from Miamisburg. She cried every day, day in--day out, all through the year; for what reason I don't know. Phyllis Stanley moved to Centerville from Pittsburgh that year and blessed us with her presence also.

Nita Knicely came in the fourth grade which was also the year our boys took a serious interest in chewing tobacco which, hear this, the girls hid for them from Miss Yoder until recess when they could have a chew. To repay this kindness, the boys did all the ornery things they could think of to the girls. For example: Butch and Roy tied Phyllis to the merry-go-round and left her there to cry her eyes out. This year was also the budding of a long romance; Sue asked Roy to marry her!!

In the fifth grade Nina had a change of heart; she and Nita giggled happily through the year. Fern Yates and Ronald Seitner came that year just in time to take part in the snowball war we were waging with the class of '52.

By the sixth grade our boys completely changed their way of life and denounced chewing tobacco forever. Now they took up cigarettes!! They smoked about four packs a day on the sly. This year was also the scene of our famous class party at "Hot's." Miss Fisher wasn't able to attend, but we didn't let that hold us back. We had it anyway, and the boys made it an event to remember when they attempted swimming in two feet of water.

During our junior high year nothing much happened except that we began to find new interests in the other sex. Of course, Suzanne Harlan came in the seventh grade and Shirley Gilliam in the eighth; we can't miss mentioning them.

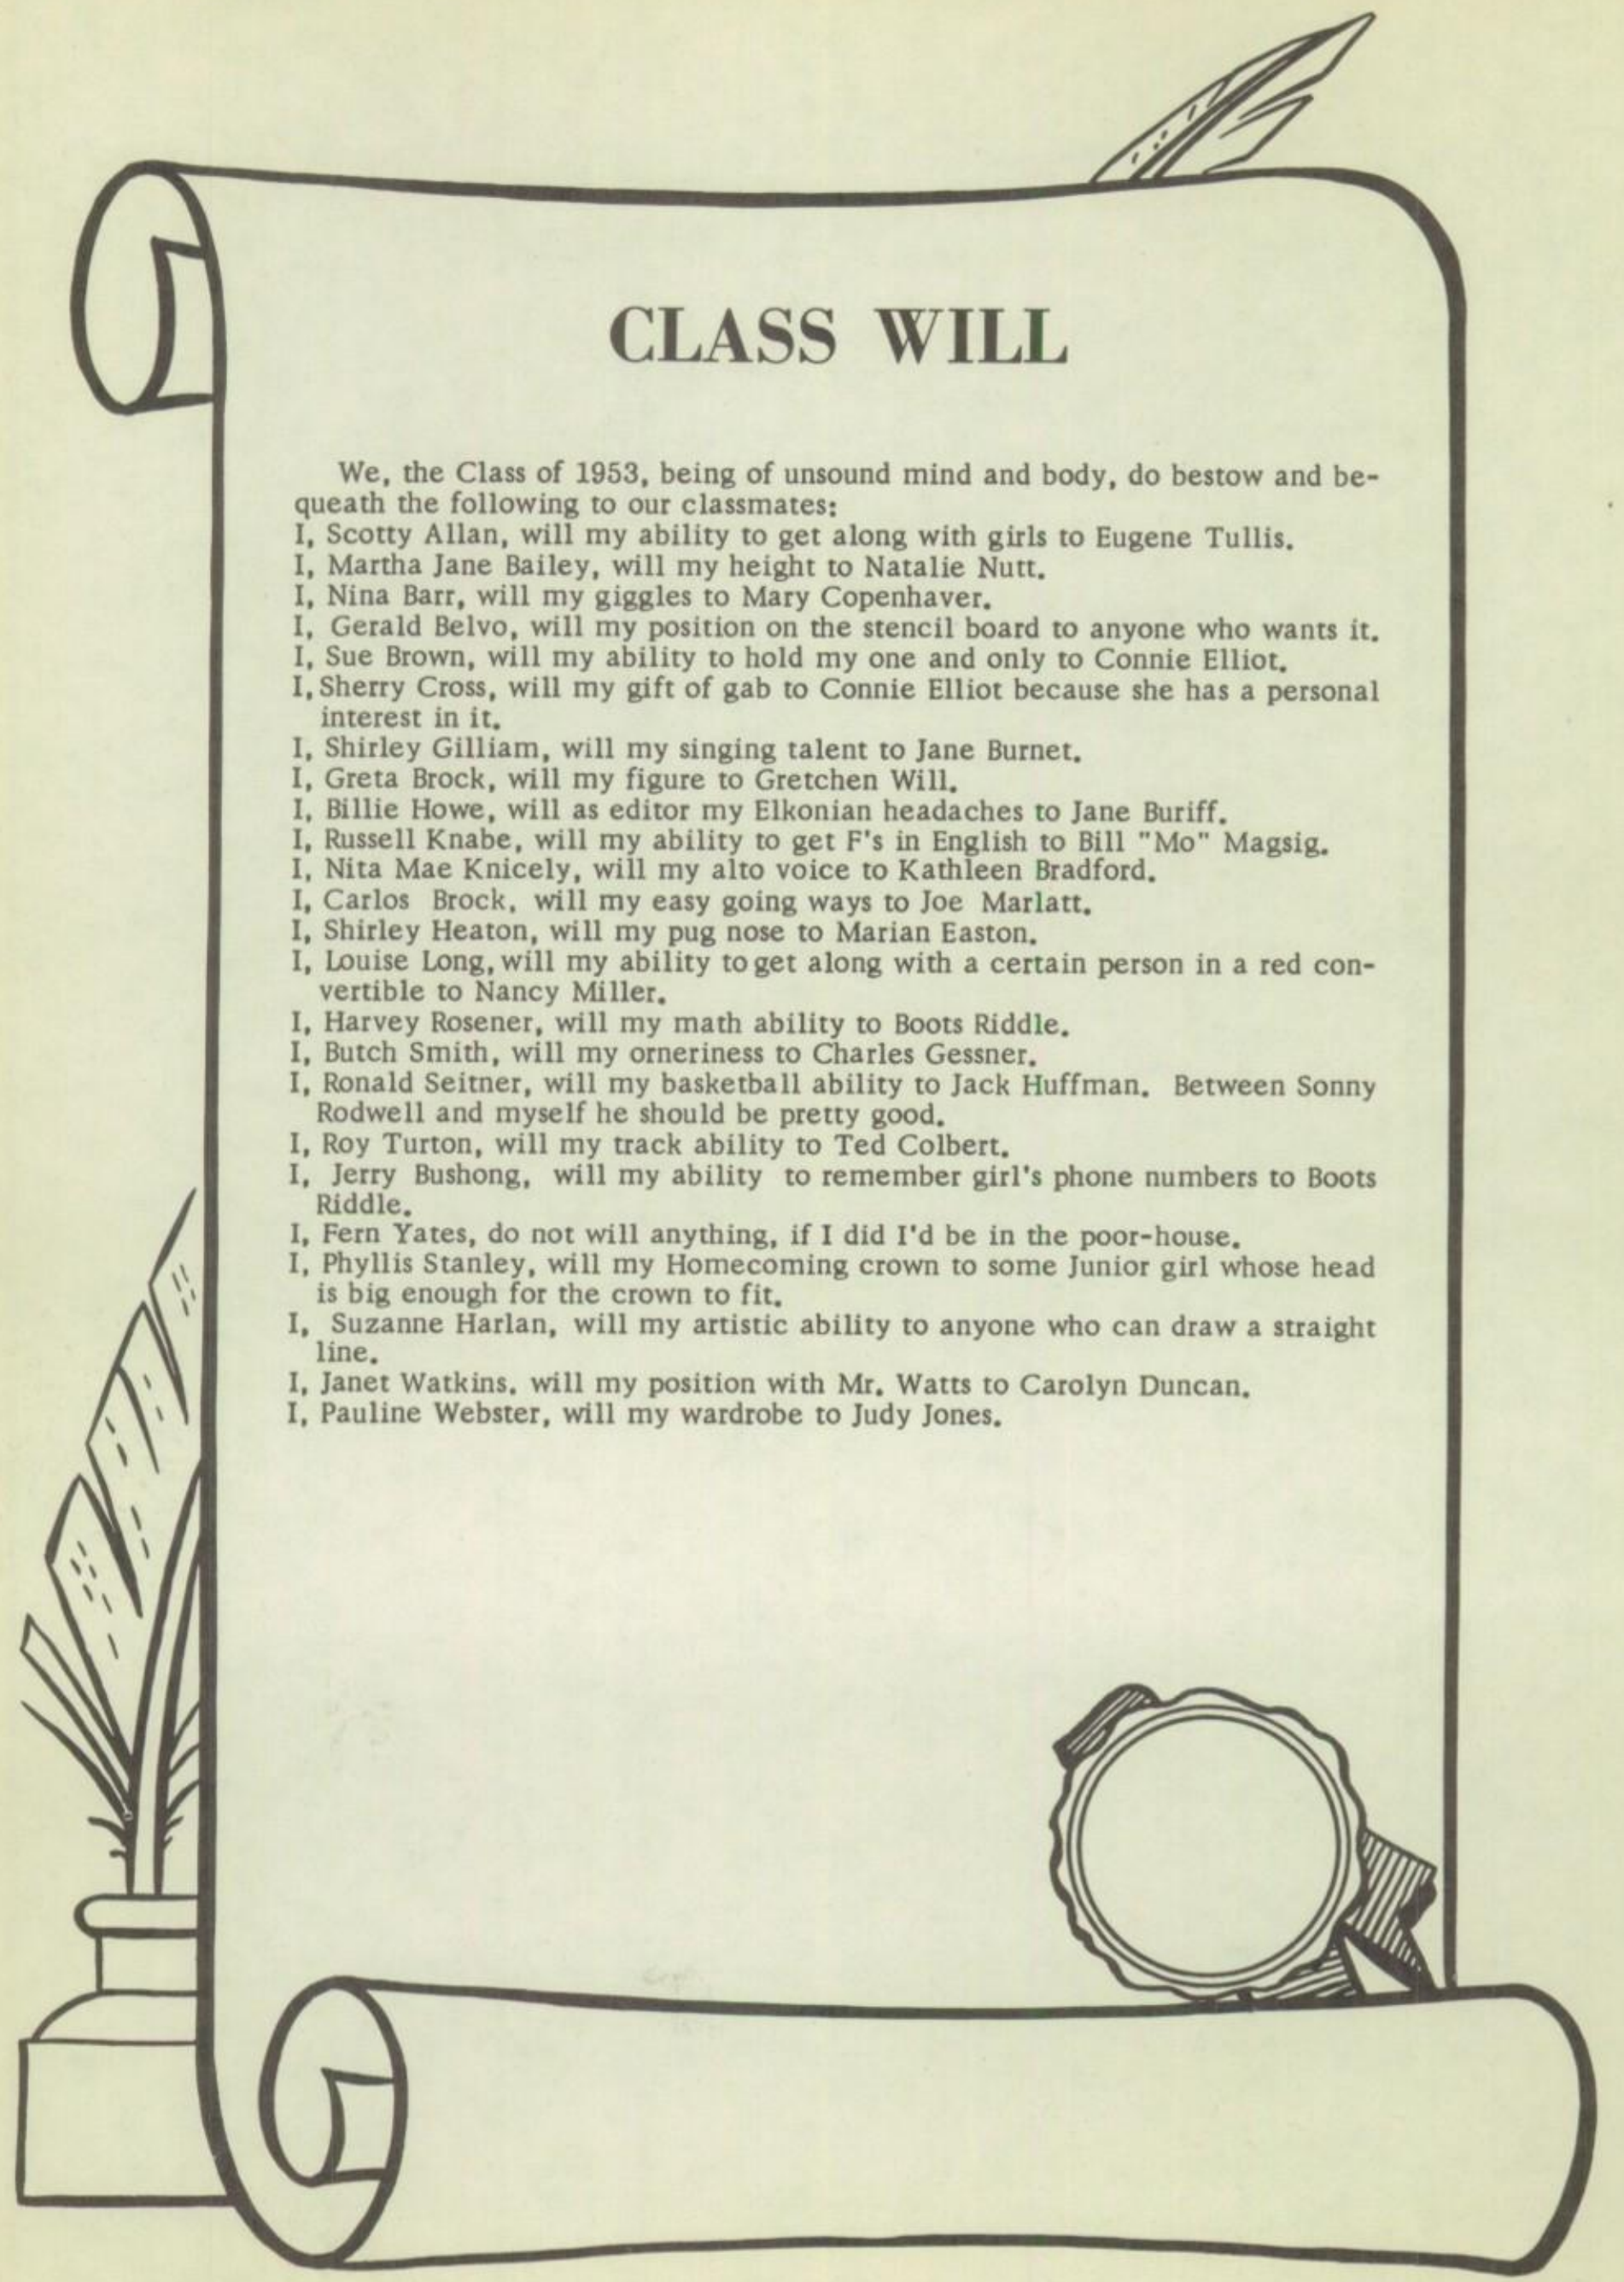

We started off our high school years with a bang. While we were still "green" Freshmen, Jerry Bushong, our "mighty mouse" of football and romance, Pauline Webster, and Sherry Cross joined us. That year we sold cards to raise money until we were blue in the face. Shirley Gilliam received the lead in the operetta, and we felt "real" proud of her.

In our tenth year Louise Long, Russell Knabe, Harvey Rosener, Shirley Heaton, and the Brocks, Greta and Carlos, came into our midst making our class the biggest it ever had been. This was the year of our April Fool frolic, a venture which caused us to go in the hole financially.

When we were juniors, we were led a merry chase by our southern gentleman-advisor, Mr. Chaney. He almost killed us at Sue's class party and drove us like mad during our magazine campaign, but we rallied through it. Under Mr. Constable's supervision we gave the play, "We Shook the Family Tree." Harvey Rosener starred with his famous line, "Ah Ha!" We rounded out the year by sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom.

Our last year of school we finally quieted down somewhat and began to look to the future with a little seriousness. We ended our school days with a grand and glorious senior trip.

Now we arrive at that time when we find the truth of our class motto: "Success awaits at Labor's gate." Most of us agree, now that we've reached it, that there is likely to be lots more labor on the other side of that graduation gate.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1953, being of unsound mind and body, do bestow and bequeath the following to our classmates:

- I, Scotty Allan, will my ability to get along with girls to Eugene Tullis.
- I, Martha Jane Bailey, will my height to Natalie Nutt.
- I, Nina Barr, will my giggles to Mary Copenhaver.
- I, Gerald Belvo, will my position on the stencil board to anyone who wants it.
- I, Sue Brown, will my ability to hold my one and only to Connie Elliot.
- I, Sherry Cross, will my gift of gab to Connie Elliot because she has a personal interest in it.
- I, Shirley Gilliam, will my singing talent to Jane Burnet.
- I, Greta Brock, will my figure to Gretchen Will.
- I, Billie Howe, will as editor my Elkonian headaches to Jane Buriff.
- I, Russell Knabe, will my ability to get F's in English to Bill "Mo" Magsig.
- I, Nita Mae Knicely, will my alto voice to Kathleen Bradford.
- I, Carlos Brock, will my easy going ways to Joe Marlatt.
- I, Shirley Heaton, will my pug nose to Marian Easton.
- I, Louise Long, will my ability to get along with a certain person in a red convertible to Nancy Miller.
- I, Harvey Rosener, will my math ability to Boots Riddle.
- I, Butch Smith, will my orneriness to Charles Gessner.
- I, Ronald Seitner, will my basketball ability to Jack Huffman. Between Sonny Rodwell and myself he should be pretty good.
- I, Roy Turton, will my track ability to Ted Colbert.
- I, Jerry Bushong, will my ability to remember girl's phone numbers to Boots Riddle.
- I, Fern Yates, do not will anything, if I did I'd be in the poor-house.
- I, Phyllis Stanley, will my Homecoming crown to some Junior girl whose head is big enough for the crown to fit.
- I, Suzanne Harlan, will my artistic ability to anyone who can draw a straight line.
- I, Janet Watkins, will my position with Mr. Watts to Carolyn Duncan.
- I, Pauline Webster, will my wardrobe to Judy Jones.
